Marriott's St. Kitts Beach Club timeshare resort captures the many moods of romantic and relaxing St. Kitts. Explore the island and take in the beauty of its emerald forests and turquoise waters. When it's time to relax, after a day spent enjoying the sun and surf, two- and three-bedroom, air-conditioned units, complete with DVDs, provide a home away from home.

The timeshare units were spacious and well-decorated. The furniture is in excellent condition. Amenities included three plasma TVs, a DVD player, and complimentary wired internet access. The units included king-size bed, two twins, washer/dryer, full refrigerator and kitchen supplies, Jacuzzi tub, all-tile shower unit with seat, and a standard shower/tub unit. In the living room there was a sofa bed, several chairs, and a four-person table.

There were plenty of activities at the resort. There is a reef right off shore which is good for snorkeling and also shelters the beach from the tides.

The hotel has a number of stores on-site, including sundries, jewelry, and a few clothing stores. Some stores are connected to the lobby, but several more (including a Red Sail store) are located in a separate outdoor area behind the others.

The beach at the Marriott was absolutely fantastic! The water was clean and calm (thanks to the reef). There were always cabanas available, and we could usually find one near the water. There are a lot of locals working the beach, selling jewelry, aloe-vera rubs, or massages. There's also a guy who comes by with one or two green vervet monkeys for pictures with the tourists. The locals were persistent, but generally left you alone once asked.

The activity staff and bell staff were friendly and interacted well with the guests. The concierge and the desk staff for the hotel were adequate, but didn't do anything special.
